

Meet our AACD, Accredited Ceramists

PRECISION
DENTAL ARTS

Precision now has three team members that are AACD accredited ceramists:

Stan Lott CDT, AAACD Michelle Robinson Weber, AAACD Vaughn Wright CDT, AAACD

AACD, accredited ceramist Vaughn Wright CDT, AAACD:

Mr. Wright was born in Mesa, Az and grew up in Logan Utah. Thinking Vaughn may be interested in the dental laboratory field, George Keller, DMD invited him to Nampa, Idaho in 1983. Vaughn took the trip , was hooked and he remained in Idaho since. He worked his way from pickups and deliveries to the top of two local laboratories before opening Wright Dental Ceramics in 1997 and went on to receive his CDT. Vaughn continually pursues continuing education, and it was the Pac Live Synergy course where he learned about the AACD. His passion for cosmetics was then inspired. Vaughn enjoys spending time with his wife, traveling, hunting and fishing.

Vaughn became an accredited member of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry (AACD) in 2015 and continues to be very involved with the AACD today.

AACD, accredited ceramist Michelle Robinson Weber:

Michelle Robinson Weber specializes in cosmetics and full mouth reconstructions. For the past several years, she has been residing in Las Vegas, where her commitment to quality and communication has created beautiful smiles for many. With over 25 years in the dental field, she has authored many articles, some of which have been featured in such publications as The Journal Cosmetic Dentistry, PPAD and Contemporary Esthetics and Restorative Practice. Michelle achieved Accreditation status with the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry in 2008 at the annual scientific session in New Orleans. At that same meeting, she was also honored at "Give Back a Smile". She has instructed hand-on courses featuring many different materials and techniques and has even been a hands-on guest for Ivoclar/Vivadent.

When not at the bench, she enjoys kayaking, fishing & exploring the outdoors with her two pups.
